Description:

Cerium oxide CeO2 for glass polish - 100g great use for cerium oxide is polishing out glass scratches and the process is quite simple. First you need to determine how deep the scratches are - if you can feel the scratch when you run your fingernail over the area, it is likely to be too deep to polish out easily. In these cases, you will need to grind it down before polishing. If the area feels smooth, you can go straight to polishing.
