Quick TV2 200W Desoldering Station

Product ID: 23536

Price: 422.00 EUR

Product weight: 4.00 kg

Description:

Quick TV2 200W Desoldering Station The station features a closed-loop sensor heating system that ensures precise temperature control, along with a built-in, high-efficiency vacuum pump. The LCD display with a touch button enables convenient parameter adjustment and access to sleep mode. The device uses a low-voltage, isolated power supply for the heating element, ensuring complete operational safety. The unique design of the nozzle and heating tube allows molten solder to be drawn directly into the filter without the need for frequent maintenance. An anti-scald vacuum hose protects the device from damage if it comes into contact with hot parts, and its lead-free capability allows for operation at lower temperatures.
